"A fabulous, crowd-pleasing documentary... gracefully captures the beauty and energy... as well as the tensions." -GAY CITY NEWS

"Tremendously entertaining!" -OUT MAGAZINE

"A beautiful portrait of the same-sex dance scene." -DANCING TIMES MAGAZINE

"Totally enchanting...electrifying and breathtakingly stunning." -QUEERGURU

"The dancing is beautiful, but the real focus is the struggles and triumphs experienced by the LGBTQ community." -VICE

"Just as much about life and gender politics as it is about dance. These dancers show how competitive ballroom dance is enhanced, not diminished, by same-sex partnering." -NEW YORK TIMES

'Mad Hot Ballroom' meets 'Paris is Burning'...or is it 'RuPaul's Drag Race' meets 'Dancing with the Stars'? Whatever your reference, the award-winning and crowd-pleasing documentary 'Hot to Trot' offers a deep-dive look inside the fascinating but little-known world of same-sex competitive ballroom dance. This lively, poignant film follows an international cast of four magnetic men and women over several years, on and off the dance floor, as they journey to the quadrennial Gay Games. Along the way, dancing is revealed to be both a means of overcoming personal hardships – from drug addiction to familial rifts – and a joyous opportunity to merge passionate artistic expression with proud sexual identity.
